

Simone Berger
Chief Human Resources Officer/CHRO

Biography

Since January 2019, Simone Berger has served as Head of Global Human Resources of STADA Arzneimittel AG. From April 2021, she has also served on STADA's Executive Board as Chief Human Resources Officer. In these roles, the Cologne native drives STADA's values, corporate culture, and talent development worldwide.

Simone Berger, who holds a diploma in Business Administration from the Fachhochschule für Ökonomie und Management, Essen, has around 20 years of experience in leading human resources management across various industries including automotive, healthcare and consumer goods.

Having started her career in the pharmaceutical industry with Bayer, Simone Berger developed extensive international expertise through roles with Schaeffler, Voith Turbo, Cybex and Goodbaby Group. This included strong international exposure through assignments in the US, Germany, China and Singapore.